101st Annual AOPA National Assembly Has Something to Offer All O&P Professionals

WASHINGTON, D.C. – September 18, 2018 – The 101st Annual AOPA National Assembly is coming to the Vancouver Convention Center from September 26th-29th in Vancouver, Canada. The Annual Assembly is the highlight of the year for the more than 2,200 orthotic, prosthetic and pedorthic professionals expected in attendance – because of its expansive educational opportunities, massive exhibit hall, and engaging events.

2,200 healthcare professionals and caregivers gather to network with their peers, learn about the latest technology developments, and to glean insight into the current and future research of orthotics, prosthetics, and pedorthics. The vast array of topics include outcomes and evidence based practice in O&P, rehabilitation of the paretic arm, the need for transparent, value-based funding in O&P, technology for geriatrics, just to name a few.

The education sessions are accompanied by a diverse array of 100+ exhibitors in the grand exhibit hall that houses manufacturers, suppliers, buyers, office managers, and associations that all represent the O&P profession. It is no coincidence that AOPA houses the largest annual O&P convention, there is something for everyone, from technicians and practitioners to office managers and researchers.

The full schedule for the Assembly is online at www.AOPAnet.org.

About AOPA

AOPA, based in Alexandria, Virginia, is the largest non-profit organization dedicated to helping orthotic and prosthetic businesses and professionals navigate the multitude of issues surrounding the delivery of quality patient care. The association was founded when needs of returning veterans in the aftermath of World War I required a national organization to address the educational and research requirements of the industry.
